

Singapore equips LY iTech with tools for transformation

How this Chinese manufacturer is leading its growth in Southeast Asia with its first overseas headquarters in the city-state

1:

Talent with deep expertise and international experience

With access to a skilled talent pool, LY iTech was able to put together an international A-team to lead its transformation with the right know-how and a global lens to strategy.

2:

Robust IP protection

Singapore's efficient IP application process and extensive global IP networks help LY iTech to swiftly bring its innovations to market with confidence, and assurance.

3:

Launchpad into Southeast Asia

Not only is the manufacturer brought closer to customers and innovation partners in Singapore, it is located in the heart of one of the world's fastest-growing regions.

