

The win-win outcomes of Illumina's and KPP Packaging's partnership

FOR ILLUMINA:

01 Boosted Supply Chain Resilience

For Illumina, having a local supplier has eliminated the need to ship bulky packaging materials. This reduced freight shipments and its carbon footprint. Having a local partner has also cut down purchase lead time from four weeks to one, with faster, same-day responses for New Product Introduction (NPI) projects.

02 Enhanced Cost Efficiencies

Illumina has achieved both materials and freight cost savings by using consumable packaging supplies made by KPP.

FOR KPP PACKAGING:

03 Achieved ISO Certification

With enhanced capabilities and expertise with respect to regulatory standards, industry-specific requirements, and packaging technologies, KPP has achieved the ISO 13485 certification for In Vitro Diagnostic (IVD) Packaging and Non-Active Medical Device Packaging materials. This will allow it to access new opportunities to service customers outside of the consumer products space.

04 Enhanced Talent Capabilities and Job Security

The partnership with Illumina enabled KPP's employees to gain new skills that can be put to good use on the job, positioning them well for career growth in the future.
